

Priva FS Performance

Increase the insight into your company

How do you compare production, climate and labour data and make it into sensible and reliable information? Even more complex, how can you do this when you have several sites? Can you make important business decisions even with a lack of time on your hands? Priva FS Performance is about to make your life easier.

The innovative management information system, Priva FS Performance, integrates data from your installations and different sites and turns it into transparent information. With one press of the button, you look at the real-time progress and you make quicker decisions. It brings unification and confidence to every manager, no matter the size of your company.

Optimizing of production

Optimizing production requires detailed insight into a large number of factors. What is the yield per m² this year and what was it last year? And what is it at the other locations? Can any differences be explained based on data about climate, water dosage, EC or amount of light? What measures can contribute to an even better performance?

Priva FS Performance allows you to create clear overviews and reports of the cumulative harvest in relation to the greenhouse climate and the outside conditions.

Labour as a stable factor

The most important production factor in your company is labour. Registering all employees entails an enormous administrative burden. With Priva FS Performance you enter all (including temporary) employees once without losing valuable time in the greenhouse. A new employee reporting for work can get started quickly and efficiently.

With Priva FS Performance you can follow the progress of your employees from right behind your desk, both on quality and quantity; at all of your sites. This lets you make timely adjustments where necessary. This results in more consistent labour and a constant quality of your product and satisfied customers. In addition to this, you can create a reliable labour plan, providing employee guidance.

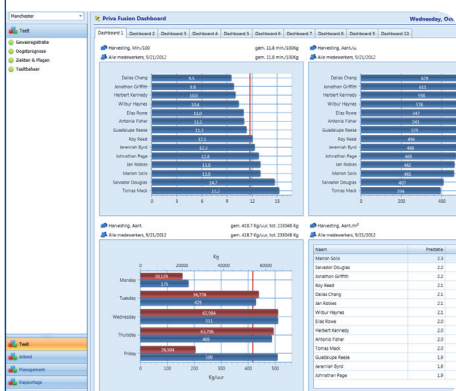

Unreliable information belongs to the past

A minor error in a data file can cause unreliable information. Recognizing incorrect inputs of information often requires an enormous effort. Priva FS Performance helps you by checking and validating all data. An irregular value immediately results in a warning and the proposal of a logical solution, allowing you to correct it quickly. This will save you time and the result is reliable and consistent data.

Analyze quickly and easily at different levels

As an entrepreneur, you want to be able to analyze your company's performance at various levels; at crop level you want to know how the crop is performing, at location level you want to know what is going on and at company level you want the complete picture and be able to compare.

Priva FS Performance allows you to retrieve various, flexible reports without being dependent on your managers. This means that you are ensured of the correct real-time data. You can make important business decisions at operational, tactical and strategic levels.

Modular system

Priva FS Performance is a modular built-up system. This means that you can have a solution adapted to your needs and wishes, no matter the size of your company. Moreover, Priva FS Performance can be expanded with a number of useful modules such as: Priva FS Analysis, Priva FS Crop Registration and Priva FS Crop Prognosis. You will find full details of the modules that are available on the website: www.priva.ca/fsperformance.

A number of new functions make your daily use easier:

- Correction and validation module that recognizes incorrect input by your employees and proposes logical solutions
- Central input and management of master data (employees, jobs, locations and units for instance) for all departments and sites
- Flexible reports; the ability to quickly and easily retrieve your own reports at an operational, tactical and strategic level any time you want
- A new portal that provides access to all Priva FS programs and modules via a single screen

Priva North America
3468 South Service Road
VINELAND STATION
Ontario L0R 2E0
Canada
T 1 (905) 562-7351
F 1 (905) 562-7717
www.priva.ca

Your Priva Dealer:

